What is the potential for development in the energy sector in Djibouti?

The potential for development in Djibouti's energy sector remains high. The page below gives an overview of the energy sector in Djibouti.

Does Djibouti have electricity?

Djibouti has vast untapped renewable energy sources, namely geothermal, solar, and wind. The peak annual demand in 2014 was about 90 MW but is expected that it will grow to about 300 MW by around 2020. Electricity supply services are provided through the vertically integrated utility Electricité de Djibouti(EDD).

How many railway stations are there in Djibouti?

The final stretch between the Nagad railway station and the Port of Doraleh (12.1 km) is non-electrified and only served by diesel locomotives to avoid interferences of loading /unloading cranes with the electric overhead catenary of an electrified railway. Along the line, Djibouti has a total of four railway stations:

Why should Djibouti have a military base?

Djibouti's location allows nations to protect commerce and trade, guard maritime oil shipping routes, and facilitate extraction missions for expatriates working abroad due to its proximity to hotbeds of turmoil in Africa, such as Somalia and Yemen in the Middle East.
